

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY
PETITION FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY COURSEWORK

The History Department encourages its students to take upper-division courses in disciplines related to history. At least 50% of the readings and written work in these courses must be historical in nature. These courses may or may not be used to satisfy the requirements of a second major or a minor; consult with the history undergraduate program coordinator.

History majors who entered the university prior to Fall 2015 may petition to apply a maximum of two interdisciplinary courses to their upper-division elective requirements. History majors who entered the university starting Fall 2015 may petition to apply a maximum of one interdisciplinary course to their upper-division elective requirement. Interdisciplinary courses may not satisfy chronological distribution requirements. History minors may petition to apply a maximum of two upper-division courses.

Directions: Submit this petition and a copy of the course syllabus to a faculty member from your region of concentration if you are a history major, or to History Undergraduate Director, Professor Noriko Aso, if you are a history minor. You may meet with the faculty member/director during their posted office hours or make an appointment. Be prepared to justify why the course should satisfy a major or minor requirement and provide samples of your written work from the course. After your meeting, file your approved Petition for Interdisciplinary Coursework with the history undergraduate program coordinator in the History Department Office (Humanities 1, room 201).
